Lawdragon Recognizes Locke Lord Lawyers Among Environmental & Energy Leaders

RELATED PROFESSIONALS

Elizabeth E. Mack | Gerald J. Pels | Susan M. Rainey

Elizabeth Mack, Gerry Pels, and Susan Rainey, Partners in Locke Lord's Environmental Section, have been recognized as standout environmental lawyers in the inaugural Lawdragon 500 Leading Environmental & Energy Lawyers list. The list is the product of two years of research on leaders across the environmental and energy spectrum and is based on journalistic research, submissions from firms and others and vetting with environmental and energy law experts, according to Lawdragon.

Locke Lord's Environmental team includes dedicated practitioners who understand the many dimensions of environmental law and the different ways these laws affect businesses and individuals. Their extensive environmental experience helps clients navigate and respond effectively to regulatory compliance issues, environmental liability concerns, civil and criminal enforcement actions and citizen complaints.
