Please join Troutman Pepper Partners Chris Willis and Michael Lacy for a special inside look at our annual publication of the Consumer Financial Services Year in Review and Look Ahead. In our eighth year of publishing this annual review of regulatory and legal developments in the consumer financial services industry, our team has prepared a thorough analysis of the most important issues and trends across 17 consumer protection areas. For the first time, we are rolling out both webinars and podcasts on select topics to not only provide more in-depth coverage of 2023 events, but also let you know what we expect in 2024. This material will be beneficial to in-house counsel, compliance managers, regulators, and anyone in the consumer financial services space who wants to stay ahead of the curve.
