Wednesday, June 4 • 1:45 – 2:45 p.m. ET

Troutman Pepper Locke litigators Callan Stein, Michael Lowe, and Chris Brolley will be speaking at the 2025 Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics and Health Care Compliance Association’s 2025 Higher Education Compliance Conference on Wednesday, June 4. Their session, entitled “208 From Alston to House and Beyond: The Current State of Name, Image and Likeness (NIL) and Collegiate Athletics”, will be from 1:45 p.m. – 2:45 p.m. ET in Orlando, FL.

Session Overview:

- Understand the past and current legal and regulatory environments concerning NIL in college athletics and of paying student-athletes.
- Examine the landmark settlement in the House v. NCAA case, including the monumental shift away from amateurism that it represents.
- Identify challenges and risk areas for school athletics departments in a post-House world and consider effective mitigation strategies.
