Troutman Pepper Locke is a proud sponsor of the 2026 Global Power Markets Conference, hosted by S&P Global, taking place in Las Vegas from April 13 – 15, 2026. In this premier event for decision-makers navigating profound changes that will impact the U.S. and global power markets, senior industry players will network and discuss the challenging volatility of the global financial markets, the opportunities available in transformative technologies, and all the latest topics impacting the U.S. and global energy markets.

John Leonti will be moderating a CEO Fireside Chat with Brian Bolster, President and CEO of NextEra Energy Resources, LLC on Monday, April 13 at 1:45 p.m.

Thomas Heffernan will be moderating the panel, “Securing the Future: Dispatchable Power and the New Supply Equation,” on Monday, April 13 at 4:30 p.m. This panel will explore how growing demand, increasing intermittent generation, and evolving market designs are reshaping the role of dispatchable resources in maintaining grid reliability and investment certainty. Speakers will examine how a diversified portfolio—from natural gas and nuclear to technologies such as carbon capture, geothermal, and long-duration storage—can deliver reliable, affordable power while advancing decarbonization goals.
