20th Annual Institute for Energy Law Energy Litigation Conference

Locke Lord is a proud sponsor of the 20th Annual Institute for Energy Law Energy Litigation Conference taking place on November 3, 2021 in Houston, Texas.

This conference has become a must-attend event for energy litigators, in particular oil and gas attorneys. The 20th edition of the Energy Litigation Conference will bring together some of the top in-house and private practice energy litigators to discuss new trends in energy litigation, recent case law of importance to energy litigators, and ways to improve an energy litigation practice.
