Troutman Pepper is an active participant in the International Bar Association. Tom Rose, corporate partner, will be attending the 21st Annual IBA International Mergers & Acquisitions Conference in New York City. This prestigious event brings together leading professionals from around the globe to discuss the latest trends and developments in international M&A law.

Our corporate group, which is consistently recognized as a top-tier practice, serves global clients wherever opportunity leads them. We offer a comprehensive range of services that include mergers and acquisitions (including cross-border transactions and corporate carve-outs), private equity, venture capital, capital markets and corporate finance, corporate governance, and securities law compliance.

If you're attending the IBA conference, we invite you to say hello to Tom and learn more about how Troutman Pepper can support your business goals. For those interested in setting up a meeting, please reach out to Troutman Pepper's Transactional Business Development team at TransactionalDeptBDTeam@troutman.com.
