Arbitrating Construction Disputes

WRITTEN BY

Albert Bates, Jr. | R. Zachary Torres-Fowler

Troutman Pepper Locke's Albert Bates, Jr. and R. Zachary Torres-Fowler recently authored a Reuters Practical Law: The Journal article, "Arbitrating Construction Disputes," where they discuss the steps and considerations involved in arbitrating a construction dispute in the U.S., including the issues that parties should consider before arbitrating a dispute, the steps parties should take to prepare for the arbitration, and the process for presenting claims and defenses during the arbitration hearing.
