ARIAS-U.S. “AI – The Good, The Bad and The Ugly

Webinar

SPEAKERS

Thomas Kinney

Wednesday, December 6 • 1:00 – 2:00 p.m. ET

Troutman Pepper Partner Thomas Kinney will be a co-presenter of the ARIAS-U.S. webinar, “AI – The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly,” on Wednesday, December 6, 2023, at 12:00 p.m. EST.

The webinar will delve into the realm of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and its profound impact on the Insurance and Reinsurance industries. AI presents a wealth of opportunities for insurers and reinsurers, revolutionizing how they operate and interact with clients. However, the implementation of AI technology also introduces significant challenges from legal, regulatory, and best practices standpoints.

The panel will guide you through the various types of AI currently in use, their applications within the industry, and the ongoing technical issues that influence the Insurance and Reinsurance sectors. The discussion will then shift to the legal and regulatory hurdles associated with the adoption of this technology.

A diverse group of professionals will conclude the session by addressing thought-provoking topics such as privilege and privacy concerns, emerging areas of potential liability, potential coverage issues, policy considerations, and best practices for AI utilization.

This webinar offers invaluable insights for company representatives, arbitrators, and outside counsel, enabling them to:

- To better understand AI and what it is all about.
- To learn how AI is being used by insurers and reinsurers.
- To be aware of the benefits and pitfalls of using AI.
- To highlight the risks associated with using AI.
- To explore best practices for implementing AI.
