Troutman Pepper Locke's Brett Mason and Leigh Zeiser will be speaking during DRI's Artificial Intelligence in Defense Practice: Tools, Prompts, Workflows, Implementation, and Governance Seminar on March 9-10, 2026.

This one-day CLE seminar focuses on the practical nuts and bolts of AI use in defense practice. Featuring interactive demonstrations from AI product vendors and real-use cases from DRI members, this seminar provides defense attorneys and insurance claims professionals with actionable strategies for selecting, using, and managing AI tools in daily litigation practice. Participants will learn specific techniques, AI prompts, workflows, platforms, and internal policy and guidance that they can apply immediately upon return to their practices. This program was designed and written with assistance from Claude by Anthropic Opus 4.5 Max and Google Gemini 3.0 Pro.
