Stephen C. Piepgrass, a partner in the firm's government enforcement, compliance and investigations group, was quoted in the March 19, 2021 Law360 article, "As AG Takes Wheel at HHS, Biden Faces Rocky Legal Road."

"What we're seeing is state AGs, who saw how effective the Democratic AGs were in pushing back on the Trump administration in many cases, looking at what they did and saying, 'Hey, maybe we can take a page out of the opposition's playbook,'" Troutman Pepper partner Stephen C. Piepgrass, who advises clients on interactions with state attorneys general, told Law360.

"It will be interesting to see if Republican AGs line up on the other side in favor of the current analysis, in another possible partisan flashpoint," Piepgrass said.
