Over the next decade, as electric vehicles increase in numbers and manufacturers compete to earn a greater share of the market, it is expected that state attorney generals continue to closely scrutinize the industry. Although the specific focus of each investigation may vary, it is expected that states use prior resolutions as a roadmap to investigate and seek settlements related to technological enhancements.

Chris Carlson and Bonnie Gill, attorneys with Troutman Pepper, and Patrick Cleary, a partner with Bowman and Brooke, discuss more in this article published by WardsAuto.
