Chris Willis, a co-leader of Troutman Pepper’s Consumer Financial Services Practice Group, was quoted in the February 6, 2023 American Banker article, “Auto Lenders, Dealers Draw More Scrutiny After Pandemic-Era Boom”.

“There’s just a whole lot of activity going on from all quarters of the regulatory front in auto finance right now,” said Chris Willis, a lawyer at Troutman Pepper who advises banks and other consumer lenders.

“The rule itself does not say that, but my suspicion is that that may evolve,” said Willis, the Troutman Pepper lawyer.
