

Bettering Our Communities While Building Strong Relationships

A client in the financial services industry wanted to partner with our firm on a pro bono project that would have a significant impact on the client's local community.

Our Approach

Our pro bono team organized an expungement clinic jointly hosted by our firm, the client, and Lakeshore Legal Aid to help individuals with criminal records navigate the expungement process.

The Outcome

We counseled several individuals on how to proceed through the expungement process, setting them up to successfully petition the court to clear their records and paving the way for future employment, housing, and other opportunities.