

Podcasts | November 17, 2022

California Updates Protections for Service Members and Veterans

The Consumer Finance Podcast

SPEAKERS

Chris J. Willis | Anthony C. Kaye

Please join Consumer Financial Services Partner Chris Willis and his guest and colleague Tony Kaye as they discuss the recently enacted California Senate Bill 1311 or Military and Veteran Consumer Protection Act of 2022. Effective January 1, 2023, the new bill — drawn up by the California attorney general's office — intends to enhance consumer protections for military service members, directly affecting the Military Lending Act's exception for loans to purchase motor vehicles and other personal property.

Consumer Financial Services Partner Tony Kaye brings a broad knowledge in military lending laws. He regularly advises financial services providers on compliance issues, while also guiding financial institutions to successfully navigate CFPB investigations and a variety of other government investigations, examinations, and enforcement actions.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Consumer Financial Services
- Enforcement Actions + Investigations
- Federal Trade Commission \(FTC\)
- Military Lending