

Podcasts | August 4, 2022

CFPB's Increasingly Active Interest in Credit Reporting

FCRA Focus Podcast

EVENT CONTACTS

David M. Gettings | Ethan G. Ostroff

Please join Consumer Financial Services Partner Dave Gettings and his fellow Partner Ethan Ostroff as they discuss the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's increasingly active interest in credit reporting, including a recent CFPB blog post on credit card companies and their perceived practice of suppressing payment information, as well as what it signals to companies in the industry.

Ethan's practice includes advising companies on compliance issues and interactions with regulators concerning the Fair Credit Reporting Act, as well as defending furnishers, users, and specialty consumer reporting agencies in individual and class-action lawsuits under the FCRA.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Consumer Financial Services
- Data + Privacy
- Fair Credit Reporting Act \(FCRA\)
- Financial Services
- Privacy + Cyber