We are pleased to announce our entry-level litigation training series, designed to introduce associates to various aspects of litigation practice. First-year associates in litigation practice groups are required to attend, but all associates are welcome.

Keith Joseph, VP and Litigation Counsel for Freedom Mortgage Corporation, will join Leah Katz and Scott Kelly to present Client Service for Litigators. This one-hour program will provide tips on how to differentiate yourself through delivering superior client service while representing clients in litigation. The presenters will discuss how to use these tips to create a big impact and strengthen client relationships.
