Thursday, December 10 • 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. ET

Kevin Wallace, Matthew Dials and Peter Lotfalla will provide a presentation on COVID-19 construction delays claims with the Construction Lenders Risk Management Roundtable.

As the real estate industry adapts to the new realities of transacting business during the COVID-19 pandemic, firms must take steps to adequately assess claims that have arisen due to the pandemic and implement appropriate measures (on existing projects and within new agreements) to mitigate future delays and costs. This presentation will highlight some of the “lessons learned” from the pandemic and provide takeaways for the group to better protect their project investments.
