Hello and welcome to the inaugural edition of Troutman Pepper's Cyber Capsule. The Cyber Capsule gathers noteworthy news from the prior month and groups them here. You might be asking yourself why am I receiving this? Well, first, you are likely a friend of mine and/or Sadia's in the cyber space, or we poached your email from someone we may mutually know. Second, as we grow Troutman's IR practice, we hope to provide our trusted partners, you, with valuable resources and information. As always, our goal is to make your lives easier.

For our first edition, we have recapped last month's noteworthy developments, including updates to reporting rules and cybercrime sharing. Maybe we've completely missed the mark and this is of no value to you whatsoever (seems unlikely – but maybe). If that's the case, we want to hear from you. We'd appreciate your comments and suggestions – what is working, what is not, so we can curate content that best suits your needs.
