Cyber Capsule – November 2022

WRITTEN BY

Sadia Mirza | Kamran Salour

Please find our seventh edition of the Cyber Capsule. As the year end approaches, there was a notable absence of prospective cyber-related regulation. Instead, this edition highlights the rising cost of ransomware, yet another reason to implement MFA, a recent FTC action, and an admonishment for FTC overaction. And with the CPRA taking effect on January 1, 2023 — a reminder that organizations can leverage CPRA-related data mapping for cybersecurity purposes.
