Dallas Associate Louisa Karam has been chosen for the Dallas Association of Young Lawyers 2024 Leadership Class. Now in its 28th year, the program connects young lawyers who want to grow their leadership skills and make a difference within their community and the bar. As a participant, Karam will have opportunities to learn about the City of Dallas and develop relationships with local leaders. The program also promotes leadership development within the bar association as well as local nonprofit and civic communities, providing a forum for identifying the many ways to give back to North Texas.
