Dallas Associate Tucker Davison has been chosen for the Dallas Association of Young Lawyers 2021 Leadership Class. Now in its 25th year, the program brings together young lawyers who want to make a difference within their community and the bar. As a participant, Davison will have opportunities to learn about the City of Dallas and develop relationships with local leaders. The program also promotes leadership development within the bar association as well as local nonprofit and civic communities, providing a forum for identifying the many ways to give back to North Texas.
