Thursday, May 22 • 1:00 – 2:30 p.m. ET

Troutman Pepper Locke Bankruptcy + Restructuring Partner, Jonathan Young will be part of a panel discussing, “Double-Dip Credit Structures: Permissibility, Enforceability, Benefits, Challenges, Risks, Key Loan Covenants” as part of a Strafford Webinar on May 22, 2025.

This CLE webinar will discuss double-dip transactions, which are becoming an increasingly popular liability management tool utilized by borrowers to restructure their existing liabilities and bolster liquidity. The panel will explore when double-dip transactions are permitted or restricted under a borrower’s existing loan documents and will review the benefits, risks, and challenges associated with these types of transactions.
