

Podcasts | August 2, 2021

Drilling Down: Real Parties in Interest and Time Bars

Patents: Post-Grant Podcast

SPEAKERS

Christina L. Shifton | Andrew P. Zappia | Maia H. Harris

Please join Troutman Pepper's Intellectual Property and Health Sciences practice groups for the third installment of their podcast series on strategy, trends, and other happenings at the PTAB.

Moderated by Troutman Pepper Partner Maia Harris, this episode features Troutman Pepper Partner Andrew Zappia and Associate Christina Shifton, who discuss real parties in interest as it relates to inter partes review. Specifically, Andrew and Christina examine how to define real parties in interest; the importance of identifying real parties in interest; and how real parties in interest could substantively impact IPR outcomes.

Be on the lookout for our next episode of this podcast series, where we will discuss 'reissue' as a tool to strengthen your portfolio.

Listen to the last installment of this podcast series, "Supplemental Examination: A Tool Worth Further Consideration."

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Health Care + Life Sciences
- Health Care + Life Sciences Intellectual Property
- Intellectual Property
- Post-Grant Patent Review