

Podcasts | April 22, 2025

Exploring the Administration's Regulatory Impact on Private Equity

PE Pathways

SPEAKERS

P. Thao Le | John M. Ford | John P. Falco

In this episode of PE Pathways, Troutman Pepper Locke Partners Thao Le, John Ford, and John Falco discuss the potential regulatory impacts of the Trump administration on the private equity industry. The conversation covers the challenges and opportunities for private equity in light of potential regulatory changes, including the custody rule under the Investment Advisers Act and the regulation of digital assets and cryptocurrencies. They also discuss the potential impact of the Trump administration on the future enforcement environment and the IPO market. The episode concludes with predictions about the administration's regulatory priorities and their potential impact on the private equity industry.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Investment Funds + Investment Management Services
- Private Equity