The General Data Protection Regulation was passed May 25, 2018 and sparked a worldwide discussion on how organizations both within and outside the EU approach data privacy.

During this webinar, our speakers will provide an overview of the law, discuss key trends and observations since its inception, as well as provide an overview of similar frameworks on the horizon.

Speakers will also discuss one of the most critical elements of the Regulation, the ability for regulators to fine businesses for failure to comply with the many requirements.
