Amie Colby, a partner with Troutman Pepper and chair of the firm's Regulatory and Finance Department, is featured and quoted in the Bizwomen article, "In Her Own Words: Troutman Pepper's Amie Colby's Mantra."

"I have been an attorney for more than 20 years, and even with those years of experience, I wasn't prepared for the changes that would come with Covid-19. The little things like always being on camera for meetings or not seeing your colleagues for months on end, and the seemingly never-ending work days were some of the hardest things to adjust to during the pandemic. However, my mantra is what has gotten me through my career and through Covid – stay determined, collaborate, and have a sense of humor."
