

Articles + Publications | February 13, 2025

Keeping Track of the Trump Environmental Executive Actions

WRITTEN BY

Todd C. Fracassi | Brooks M. Smith | E. Fitzgerald Veira | Andrea W. Wortzel | Elizabeth E. Mack | Gerald J. Pels

President Trump hit the ground running, issuing more executive orders, memoranda, and other actions on Inauguration Day than any previous president. Agencies are already working to implement those actions. Many of the actions are interrelated, so Troutman Pepper Locke's Environmental + Natural Resources team has put together the following resource to help assess the impact of these actions on environmental policy, and how the various actions fit together.

View our Drive-by Summary: Environmental and Energy Implications of Trump Executive Actions.

The Environmental + Natural Resources Group also contributed to this article.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Energy
- Environmental + Natural Resources
- Renewable Energy