Christopher Jones was quoted in the December 19, 2023 E&E News article, “‘Latest Battleground’: How Politics Seized the Electric Grid.”

“We’re on the cusp of something good here,” said Chris Jones, a partner at the law firm Troutman Pepper.

“Transmission should be, arguably, the most nonpartisan or bipartisan issue out there that there is. The grid itself is fuel-agnostic and does not care where the electrons come from.”
