Increased use and influence of artificial intelligence systems by companies and consumers bring with them new and dynamic oversight, compliance, governance and disclosure challenges. Legal and risk management professionals must develop processes and policies for AI tools that work within the requirements of the law as it is today, while also anticipating the coming wave of legal, regulatory and technological changes.

Glenn Pudelka and Jorden Rutledge will present “Generative AI and Copyright Infringement: Update on Current Landscape on Wednesday, March 6, 2024. The webinar begins at 10:00am PT, 12pm CT, 1:00pm ET.

Companies of every size are scrambling to find ways to harness generative AI’s power. With great power, however, comes great responsibility, and companies need to be mindful about the legal implications of AI’s use. In this one-hour presentation, we will discuss the various copyright issues that generative AI creates, including discussing the position of the U.S. Copyright Office concerning AI and recent caselaw developments.

One hour of CLE for each program is approved in CA, IL, TX and NY “Areas of Professional Practice” credit. Other states are pending.
