Locke Lord Dallas Office Managing Partner Elizabeth Mack, Co-Chair of the Firm-wide Environmental Section and a member of the Firm's Board of Directors, has been named to D CEO's 2024 Dallas 500 for the third consecutive year, recognizing the most influential leaders in North Texas. Award recipients were celebrated at an awards dinner on Nov. 16.

Mack is a nationally recognized lawyer with significant experience in brownfield redevelopment, environmental compliance, and environmental litigation. In addition to her practice, Mack is an active volunteer and holds a number of leadership positions, having been honored on many occasions for her pro bono work in the community, including being named "Outstanding Law Firm Pro Bono Coordinator" by the Dallas Bar Association. As part of her pro bono efforts, she has served as a Past Chair and current member of the Board of Directors of Texas Appleseed, a nonprofit promoting social, economic, and racial justice for all Texans. Additionally, Mack serves on the Executive Committee of the Harvard Alumni Real Estate Board and the Executive Committee of the Dallas Regional Chamber, which leverages business resources to enhance the quality of life for all in North Texas.

The Dallas 500 list features the top North Texas business leaders and executives, and is the culmination of months of research, interviews, and conversations with extensive, high-level contacts in the regional business communities by D CEO editors.
