

Podcasts | September 12, 2023

Managing "Moonlighting" in the Workplace: Julie and Julia

Hiring to Firing Podcast

SPEAKERS

Evan Gibbs | Tracey E. Diamond

Are your employees consistently taking extended lunch breaks? Are they frequently absent or keeping their cameras off during video conferences? If so, they might be “moonlighting” while on the clock. Listen in as Partners Tracey Diamond and Evan Gibbs chat with Exelon Business Services Company Assistant General Counsel Amy Bashore about the popular movie Julie and Julia, the risks associated with moonlighting, how employers can effectively monitor moonlighting within their organizations, and if gas stoves are better than electric.

Tune in to this insightful episode and don't forget to check out our previous episodes. Subscribe now to the Hiring to Firing Podcast and stay updated on all things related to the dynamic world of employment!

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Labor + Employment