Ryan DiSantis will speak on the panel “Massachusetts AGO Health Care Enforcement Trends” as part of a Boston Bar Association event. The program will take place on Wednesday, December 10, from 4:00 – 5:30 p.m. ET.

This in-depth discussion will highlight the current enforcement priorities of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office's Medicaid Fraud Unit. Health care providers in the Commonwealth face a daunting enforcement landscape, as MassHealth payment suspensions and Mass. AG investigative activity have increased substantially in recent years. Panelists will discuss the type of conduct that leads to a payment suspension and, often, a companion MFCU investigation, address the AGO's approach to investigation and enforcement, and share practical strategies for navigating suspensions, responding to inquiries, resolving investigations, and protecting providers' interests.
