

Articles + Publications | September 1, 2023

Messing with Texas: Texas Legislature Proposes to Establish Permitting Framework for New and Expanded Wind and Solar Projects

Energy Law Journal

WRITTEN BY

Jordan A. Rodriguez | M. Benjamin Cowan

In this article, the authors review a bill proposed in Texas that would require new and expanded wind and solar energy facilities in Texas to apply for permits from the Public Utilities Commission, subject to far-reaching notice, environmental assessment, and public meeting requirements.