Mid-Atlantic AI Forum

Troutman Pepper Locke Philadelphia Office

EVENT CONTACTS

Thomas P. Dwyer

The Mid-Atlantic region is one of the country's most dynamic hubs for artificial intelligence (AI) development. With a deep bench of top-tier technical talent, leading universities and incubators, combined with industry and venture investment, this is an exceptional time to build and scale AI companies in the region. Join us as we team up to bring a curated group of innovative AI companies to present to a room of venture, growth equity, corporate, and institutional investors.

This forum will feature:

- Thought leadership: Discussions on the current investment climate, market trends, and the future of AI.
- Company showcase: Presentations from some of the region's most promising AI companies.
- Networking opportunities: Time to connect with investors, entrepreneurs, industry leaders, and corporate executives.

CALL FOR COMPANIES

We are seeking a limited number of exciting, up-and-coming, innovative AI companies to be part of our showcase. To apply for consideration, please click here to complete our brief application form.

Applications are due by Friday, April 24.
