

Podcasts | July 18, 2024

Monumental Win in Data Breach Class Action: A Case Study

The Consumer Finance Podcast

SPEAKERS

Ronald I. Raether Jr. | Timothy J. St. George | Chris J. Willis

In this episode of The Consumer Finance Podcast, Chris Willis is joined by Partners Ron Raether and Tim St. George to discuss a landmark victory in a major data breach class action multidistrict litigation. The team delves into the details of the successful defense of an attempt at class certification involving a ransomware attack on software provider Blackbaud. This episode highlights the strategic legal maneuvers, team approach, extensive discovery, and expert practices that led to this important industry win. Don't miss this in-depth case study and learn how the Troutman Pepper team navigated one of the largest and most complex data breach cases in history.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Consumer Financial Services
- Privacy + Cyber
- Incidents + Investigations