NAWL: Women in Compliance – Compliance Related Roles, Responsibilities and Opportunities

SPEAKERS

Nicole A. Edmonds

Thursday, April 15 • 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. ET

Join Troutman Pepper Partner, Nicole Edmonds for a panel discussion during the National Association of Women Lawyers (NAWL) “Women in Compliance – Compliance Related Roles, Responsibilities and Opportunities” webinar which will be held Thursday, April 15, 2021 at 2:00 p.m. EST. Also joining Nicole on the panel will be Hillary Gardner, Corporate Counsel at Credigy Solutions, Inc. and Gaye Montgomery, Managing Member at Montgomery Compliance Law. The moderator of this panel will be Melodie Craft, VP Legal Affairs & Risk Management at McGrath Rent Corp.

This panel will discuss the spectrum of compliance and compliance-related roles. If you’re seeking to enter the compliance profession, we will discuss the range of compliance-related roles; for those already working in compliance, the panel will discuss possible career paths and role emphasis areas.

We will discuss how compliance and related risk management can be structured in different types of companies and industries and how this impacts compliance related roles and responsibilities, including work with the Company’s executive team and board. Our panel has both depth and breadth of compliance experience across a broad range of legal and compliance areas and will discuss opportunities and experiences in public and private companies, government, consulting and law firm settings.

CLE Credit is pending in Illinois, with reciprocal credit pending in California, Connecticut, New Jersey, and New York. For all other jurisdictions, attorneys must apply for CLE credit individually.
