Troutman Pepper Locke is proud to sponsor the 2026 NetDiligence Cyber Risk Summit in Philadelphia, a three-day event featuring workshops and panel discussions led by prominent cybersecurity professionals who share their insights on emerging trends, key issues, and the evolving cyber risk landscape.

Shelby Dolen will moderate the “Honey, I Tracked the User: AI and Behavioral Profiling” panel, which will explore how tracking pixels and similar technologies collect user data, how plaintiffs’ attorneys identify potential claims, the role of arbitration agreements and class action waivers in litigation strategy, and how AI systems leverage behavioral data to build increasingly detailed user profiles.
