New York Law Journal Features Locke Lord Pro Bono Clinic Assisting Ukrainian and Afghan Nationals

New York Law Journal

New York Law Journal featured Locke Lord's recent pro bono clinic, which assisted Ukrainian and Afghan nationals seeking temporary protective status, work authorization and/or travel authorization. The clinic, attended by a team of 31 attorneys assisting 26 foreign nationals, was held in conjunction with the New York Legal Assistance Group (NYLAG), an effort coordinated by the New York City Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs to provide social services for Ukrainians fleeing Russia's invasion of their homeland.
