

Press Coverage | December 21, 2023

Software Predictions for 2024

RELATED PROFESSIONALS

Bruce K. Fenton

Bruce K. Fenton was quoted in the December 21, 2023 SD Times article, “Software Predictions for 2024.”

Equity investments will have a heightened emphasis on quality. Remember that coming out of the pandemic were two of the busiest years on record for the industry in 2021-22, so while there’s been a pronounced drop-off this year, it hasn’t been so bad from a historical perspective. You’ll notice that it’s mostly A-grade or B+ assets being sold, even though there may be a lot of investment opportunity beneath those grades. Sponsors and corporate players will continue to come in from the sidelines in the new year. There is plenty of dry powder – many billions of dollars of pent-up capital to deploy. Experienced investors will remember how to do deals in a high-interest environment, including putting more equity into their portfolios, given the heavy cost of borrowed funds.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Private Equity