Articles + Publications | July 15, 2025

State Antitrust Enforcement Keeps Private Equity Investment in Health Care in the Cross-Hairs

WRITTEN BY

Barbara T. Sicalides | Joseph F. Kadlec | Erin S. Whaley | Samantha R. Weber

Troutman Pepper Locke's Erin Whaley, Barbara Sicalides, Joseph Kadlec, and Samantha Weber recently authored a Reuters Legal News article "State Antitrust Enforcement Keeps Private Equity Investment in Health Care in the Cross-Hairs." In the article, they discuss how state legislatures are increasingly scrutinizing private equity investments in health care to prevent negative impacts on health care access and quality, with Pennsylvania's proposed Healthcare System Protection Act serving as a prominent example of such regulatory efforts.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Antitrust
- Corporate
- Health Care Transactions
- Life Sciences Transactions
- Private Equity

©2026 Troutman Pepper Locke