Thursday, December 12 • 8:00 – 9:00 a.m. PT

Join us for an in-depth CLE course designed to equip insurance and legal professionals with the knowledge and tools necessary to effectively manage situations involving insolvent policyholders. Hosted by Kevin Kieffer, Monique Fuentes, and Matthew Elmaraghi, this comprehensive guide will cover critical steps such as policy analysis, case law review, understanding direct action jurisdictions, differentiating between retention and deductible, conducting cost-benefit analyses, managing information requests, and navigating the complexities of issuing a reservation of rights. By the end of this course, participants will be equipped with practical strategies and legal insights to navigate the complexities of dealing with insolvent policyholders, ensuring both compliance and cost-effectiveness. This course is ideal for insurance professionals, legal professionals, risk managers, and claims adjusters who seek to enhance their ability to manage these challenging situations.
