Thursday, May 4 • 1:15 – 2:15 p.m. ET

Alison Grounds will be speaking at the “Steering Clear of Sanctions” session at the 17th Annual National Institute on E-Discovery. There are serious perils for both clients and lawyers who face allegations of sanctionable conduct. A panel of experienced eDiscovery practitioners will review recent noteworthy sanctions decisions and provide practical guidance on how to prevent your case from “going off the rails”, including improving legal hold processes, addressing challenges for collecting constantly evolving data sources, and strategies for navigating eDiscovery orders.
