Mike Baughman will speak during the “Campus Speech: Policies, Protests, and Best Practices” panel at the 2025 University Rish Management & Insurance Association (URMIA) Eastern Regional Conference, scheduled for March 18-19 in New York City.

This timely topic is considered a high risk by many institutions and, with a new incoming federal administration, compliance requirements may change significantly. This session’s content aims to provide an overview of institutional liability for restricting speech; Title VI and hostile environment based on speech; responses to student activism consistent with the First Amendment; and efforts in restoring civil discourse on campus.
