Troutman Pepper client Allata, a premier custom application development and data analytics consultancy, has secured an investment from CIVC Partners, a leading middle market private equity firm. Global investment bank Equiteq also advised Allata in the investment.

Allata, founded in 2016 and headquartered in Dallas, TX, is a strategy, architecture, design and enterprise-level custom software development company focused on helping clients enhance or scale business opportunities, create efficiencies, and bring new products to market through customized technology solutions.

The Troutman Pepper team advising Allata was led by Manny Clark and included Saba Ashraf, Michael Crumbock, Molly DiRago, Daniel Anziska, David Golden, Frank “TJ” Griffin, IV, William Belton, Jacob Davis, Thomas Walker, Regina Tisdale, Rashida Stevens, Emily Schifter, and Courtney Thornton.

“Manny Clark and the Troutman Pepper team were excellent counsel during our recent transaction,” said Matt Rosen, Founder and CEO, Allata. “This was the first time any of us had been involved in onboarding a capital partner and Troutman Pepper represented us well and made sure our interests were covered. We would work with them again on future transactions.”

Consistently recognized as a top-tier national practice, Troutman Pepper’s corporate attorneys regularly handle multimillion- and multibillion-dollar transactions. Core areas of service include capital markets transactions and other significant domestic and cross-border transactions, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, securities laws compliance, and corporate finance. The firm has particular expertise in the private equity and private fund services space, advising clients on matters from fund formation to investments and exit transactions.
