PHILADELPHIA – Quantic, a cloud-based point of sale platform company, completed its seed round of $1.6M, receiving funding from Payroc, Voyages VC, and Ben Franklin Technology Partners. Troutman Pepper represented King of Prussia-based Quantic in the transaction. Read a company press release about the financing.

Quantic provides custom and intelligent data-driven solutions to help business owners streamline their sales operations. The platform offers options to sell in brick-and-mortar, e-commerce, self-ordering, or kiosk environments.

With the capital secured, Quantic will continue to scale both the deployment process of its surcharging Smart Terminal and the product growth of its powerful, portable Quantic Lite POS this year. This funding will also support research and development, ensuring the best user experience from the Quantic family of products.
