NEW YORK – Troutman Pepper Locke advised Arkstone Medical Solutions (Arkstone), an innovative biotechnology company democratizing infectious disease proficiency and fighting antimicrobial resistance, in its majority stake sale to ARCHIMED, a leading private equity firm specializing in the health care sector. For more information, see the press release.

The transaction marks a pivotal moment in Arkstone's growth trajectory, positioning the company to expand its global footprint, deepen its research and development capabilities, and bring its precision-guided technology to more clinicians around the world. Backed by ARCHIMED's capital, extensive health care experience, and international reach, Arkstone is poised to scale its impact on the global fight against antimicrobial resistance, one of the most urgent public health threats of our time.

The Troutman Pepper Locke team that advised Arkstone was led by Steven Khadavi, Joe Kadlec, Andrew Hughes, Celia Marcum, Jack Taylor, and Taylor Williams.
