ATLANTA, CHICAGO, DALLAS, NEW YORK – Demonstrating its unwavering commitment to innovation and diverse leadership in the legal industry, Troutman Pepper Locke will be hosting this year's annual International Legal Technology Association's (ILTA) Catalyst – Women Who Lead event on March 13. This year marks a significant milestone as all physical locations of the event, including Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, and New York City, will be hosted at Troutman Pepper Locke offices.

The ILTA Catalyst – Women Who Lead event is a premier gathering that celebrates and supports the leadership and contributions of women in the legal technology sector. Attendees can look forward to a day filled with insightful discussions, networking opportunities, and inspiring presentations from leading women in legal technology. Alison Fragale, organizational psychologist, professor at the University of North Carolina Kenan-Flagler Business School, and bestselling author of Likeable Badass: How Women Get the Success They Deserve, will present as the keynote speaker.

Amie Colby, managing partner of Troutman Pepper Locke, emphasized the importance of this initiative: "At Troutman Pepper Locke, we are committed to exploring new frontiers and fostering a culture of diversity and innovation within the legal technology sector. We are proud to support and empower women leaders who are driving change and advancing the role of technology in the legal industry."

"ILTA believes in the strong partnerships we have with our member firms. Troutman Pepper Locke has been an exceptional partner and a great supporter of our Women Who Lead Catalyst events," said ILTA CEO, Joy Heath Rush.

Catalyst is a one-day event offering education and interactive networking. Hosted by Troutman Pepper Locke, the event will take place in four cities: Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, and New York City. For those unable to attend in person, a virtual attendance option is available.
