DETROIT – Matt Lund, a partner in Troutman Pepper Locke’s Business Litigation Practice Group, was named to Michigan Lawyers Weekly’s “Go To Lawyers” for business litigation. The program recognizes the top lawyers in a given practice area based on nominations and an independent selection process.

According to Michigan Lawyers Weekly, those recognized as “Go To Lawyers” are regarded as experts in their field and well-versed in the nuances of related case law, statutes, and regulations clients will encounter. Honorees also have a demonstrated record of success, receive regular referrals, and think creatively.

Lund is a trial attorney with a diverse complex litigation practice covering subject matter areas ranging from federal securities disputes and high-value contract and business tort claims to federal CERCLA and state law environmental matters. He has represented employers and defended executives in the U.S.’ largest corporations and has published material on the rights of corporate officers regarding advancement and indemnification of defense costs.

Troutman Pepper Locke’s Business Litigation Practice has a successful track record defending and prosecuting high-stakes commercial matters in federal, state, trial, and appellate courts throughout the U.S. The team handles complex multidistrict cases, class actions, and single-case litigations, representing both mid-market companies and Fortune 500 industry leaders. Additionally, Troutman Pepper Locke represents clients before administrative boards, government agencies, and domestic and international alternative dispute tribunals.
