FEDERAL “TEMPORARY PAUSE” OF STATE AI LAWS CLEARS PROCEDURAL HURDLE AS SIDES DRAW BATTLE LINES

By Troutman Pepper Locke State Attorneys General Team, Gene Fishel, and Nick Gouverneur

One of many provisions in the “One Big Beautiful Bill Act,” passed by the U.S. House of Representatives, would place a 10-year “temporary pause” on states’ ability to regulate artificial intelligence (AI). Initially called a moratorium, Senate Republicans changed the characterization of the prohibition to ensure the provision’s passage during the reconciliation process. The changes were at least partially successful, as the proposed “temporary pause” overcame a procedural hurdle when the Senate parliamentarian concluded that it satisfies the “Byrd Rule” and may remain in the bill. The bill now heads to the Senate floor. If enacted, the temporary pause would mark the most significant federal action (or inaction) related to AI.

AG of the Week

TODD ROKITA, INDIANA

Todd Rokita was elected Indiana’s 44th attorney general (AG) on November 3, 2020, earning the highest number of votes of any state officeholder in Indiana history. He was reelected in 2024.

During his tenure, Rokita established the Prosecution Assistance Unit to support local prosecutors in pursuing complex criminal cases. Under his leadership, more than 300 years of jail time have been handed down in financial fraud prosecutions — an Indiana record.

Before becoming AG, Rokita worked as general counsel and vice president of external affairs at Apex Benefits. He continues to serve as a director or advisory board member for several national and Indiana-based companies.

From 2011 to 2019, Rokita represented Indiana’s 4th congressional district in the U.S. House of Representatives. He served as vice chairman of the House Budget Committee and chaired a subcommittee on the Education and the Workforce Committees.

Rokita previously served two terms as Indiana secretary of state from 2002 to 2010, and was elected president of the National Association of Secretaries of State. In this role, he supported the implementation and legal defense of the state’s photo voter ID law, which was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court.

A Munster native, Rokita earned his undergraduate degree from Wabash College and his law degree from Indiana University’s Robert H. McKinney School of Law. He practiced privately before entering public service.

Indiana AG in the News:

- On June 16, Rokita provided new guidance to Indiana sheriffs on their obligations under Indiana’s anti-sanctuary law.
- On June 5, Rokita announced that he, alongside seven other state AGs, secured a court ruling permanently barring a robocall scammer from operating in the telecommunications industry.
- Rokita is encouraging consumers to take advantage of opportunities to return, fix, dispose, or replace a purchased recalled item.
