

Press Coverage | June 19, 2026

Troutman Pepper Locke's Brooke Conkle and Chris Capurso Join Automotive News' Daily Drive Podcast to Unpack FTC's Warning Letter to 97 Auto Dealers

RELATED PROFESSIONALS

Brooke K. Conkle | Christopher J. Capurso

Troutman Pepper Locke's Brooke Conkle and Chris Capurso recently joined Automotive News' Daily Drive podcast to discuss the FTC's landmark warning letters sent to 97 auto groups nationwide. In the episode, Conkle and Capurso cover the need for clarity in enforcement, the agency's expectations around transparent pricing and required fees in advertising, and what car dealerships should be doing now to ensure their practices align with the FTC's focus on Unfair or Deceptive Acts or Practices.

For more insights from Conkle and Capurso on the latest trends, regulatory updates, and key issues impacting the auto finance industry, listen to their podcast, Moving the Metal: The Auto Finance Podcast, where they deliver in-depth analysis on the topics that matter most to auto finance professionals.

RELATED INDUSTRIES + PRACTICES

- Auto Finance
- Consumer Financial Services